

RECEPTIVE LANGUAGE CHECKLIST

- Understands position concepts on the left and right.
- Recognizes the distinction between reality and fantasy.
- Solves problems by listening to questions.
- Understands concepts such as "same," "different," "season," and "time of day."
- Delivers brief oral reports
- Makes prediction about the further explanation in stories and concepts
- Strives to choose better language to comprehend
- Listening continuously for an extended period (e.g. attending to a guest speaker at school).
- Clarifying information, they ask questions.
- Attempts to use punctuation and capitalisation.
- Retelling both fictional and actual events.
- Use proper grammar in their speech and writing.
- Write narratives and descriptive paragraphs.
- Decodes new words independently for the first time.
- They can identify the increase or decrease in word counts.
- Recognizes when a sentence is grammatically incorrect.
- Rereads, predicts what will happen next, asks questions, or uses visual cues or pictures, among other reading strategies.
- Understands the various types of questions and how to respond to them, such as open-ended questions, closed-ended questions, and rhetorical questions.
- When trying to spell, sounds out and represent significant sounds in words.
- Independently chooses to use reading and writing for different purposes.